Think and Do: Create a poster advertising any one of the books that you read over the summer. Pretend that your art will be responsible for the success of the book...find keywords/or phrases that describe your book and include them on your poster, along with the title, author and appealing illustration that would all combine to catch the eye of a reader! Your colorful poster will be on an 8x11 poster board and will be displayed in the hallway in school. Your completed work is due on the first full day of school in August. Make it your best!!
